The Legacy Locker Project

In today's highly competitive environment, first impressions mean everything to a potential new recruit. Current students also benefit from skilled faculty and first-class facilities. In recent years, Anderson University has enhanced many of its athletic facilities. In 2002, the university community celebrated the completion of the Kardatzke Wellness Center, housing four basketball courts, two indoor tracks, a fitness center, a weight room, and classroom space. During the summer of 2004, O.C. Lewis Gymnasium was upgraded. Now it's time for the East Gym to receive a facelift, including renovations to the football locker room.

The football locker room will have interior and exterior access, providing an immediate link to classrooms, coaches' offices, equipment storage, laundry facilities, practice venues, and the sports medicine area. Our goal is to develop a professional looking environment with the installation of custom-made wood lockers, and we invite you, as part of the legacy of Anderson University's football program, to participate in this exciting renovation.

The Legacy Locker project will provide all of our former players with a tangible means of connecting with our program and help fund an important facility upgrade. We ask that as a former player you would consider donating a minimum of $200 toward the Legacy Locker project. In return, we will provide a nameplate with your name, jersey number, and years played engraved and placed on the inside wall of "your" locker for everyone to see.

Please consider being a part of the Legacy Locker project and complete the attached information card. The details that you include on the information card will allow us to keep you posted about the status of the Legacy Locker project and invite you to attend special events. Your support of the Anderson University football program is appreciated. Help us celebrate the past while building for the future.
